Christmas Lights Out

The beautiful Christmas lights around the Elba public square installed by the city a few days ago were either hung too low or a huge truck passing through was too high. A large truck belonging to Danley Furniture Co., loaded with furniture was unable to pass under them Tuesday afternoon and tore down the entire string on the north side with great crash and clatter. A number of bulbs were broken, but the truck driver promptly stopped and agreed to pay for replacements so the lights will shine on.

Gets His New Road

Isiah Maddox is all smiles, and for good reason. For many years he has been trying to obtain a public road in front of his home at the end of Smith Avenue. He finally succeeded in getting the necessary right-of-way and the Board of Commissioners agreed to authorize Commissioner Florenoy Whitman to declare it a public highway and proceed with its construction. The work started Monday morning on the two and one-half mile stretch from Smith Avenue to Morris Branch where it connects with the Woodland Grove road. It is reported that construction work is progressing rapidly and that the new road will be completed in record time, weather permitting.

Maj. Bryan Recovers

Major D. S. Bryan, County Service Commissioner, who was in an Enterprise Hospital for several days for treatment of a serious stomach ailment, has almost recovered. He went squirrel hunting one day last week and has intimated to his friends that he hopes to be able to reopen his office in the courthouse in the near future. The office has been closed during his illness and has been an inconvenience to service men.

Visits Every Sunday

S. S. Edmondson, mail carrier on Elba Route 2, has a story that he can't make Dana Perdue, Jess Blocker, George Collier, Levy Foss, Dove Johnson, Lee English, Doster Roberts, and Dad English believe. He says the two fine bird dogs belonging to his son-in-law, James Martin, come over to his home in West Elba every Sunday morning and are on hand to share in the family's Sunday dinner. He says they hardly ever come on any other day of the week, but that they never miss a Sunday.

Moves Furniture Shop

Maxwell Reeves is erecting a large new building on the rear of his lot back of his home on Caroline Street in West Elba. He plans to move his Reeves Furniture Company from its present location across from the A.C.I. depot to the new quarters as soon as they are completed.

Hunters Warned

A group of Jack landowners have joined together in an effort to conserve the game in their community. Their land is posted and a notice is printed elsewhere in this paper. All hunters are warned that it is illegal to hunt on any land without written permission of the owner. Violators are subject to heavy fines.

Posters have been displayed on much of the land and hunters are urged not to enter it without written permission of the owner.

Twentieth Century Club Will Sponsor Holiday Houses

The Twentieth Century Study Club voted at its last meeting to sponsor Holiday Houses in Elba this Christmas, according to Mrs. Sallie Mullins, president.

A number of the newer homes have been offered for decoration and will be open to the public from 2:00 to 5:00 in the afternoon and 7:30 to 8:30 at night on December 1 and 17. There will be a small admission to see the different arrangements in the homes.

A list of homes to be decorated will be announced at a later date.

66 Hogs Entered In Vet Show Held Here Wed.

Judges Compliment Veterans On Fine Work With Hogs

On Wednesday of this week the Coffee County Veterans Vocational Agriculture Classes presented a purchased hog show as the feature event of their annual accomplishment day. Sixty-six fine blooded hogs of the Duroc, O.I.C., and Spotted Poland China breeds were shown by the Veterans in Agriculture Training. Mr. Jimmie Nun, Agricultural Agent with the Central of Ga. Railroad and Mr. Ed Teague, Agricultural Agent with the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company Birmingham, judged the entries and expressed the opinion that the veterans in Coffee County have done an exceptionally good job with their hogs. They were very complimentary of the entries. The placing of the hogs was evidence of the quality present. Mr. Nun and Mr. Teague placed 21 of the entries in the blue ribbon class, 28 in the red ribbon class, and 17 in the white ribbon class. The percentage of the entries placing in the high classes, blue and red, was very good, and indicated the quality of the hogs entered.

The Asbury Class almost swept the show by exhibiting the Grand Champion Boar, "Alabama's Ace" and the Grand Champion Sow, "Asbury Louise," both of which were exceptionally fine Durocs. The grand champion boar was bred on the farm of Mr. Wilson Robertson, Enterprise Route 1. The hogs were well-fitted for the show by the members of the Asbury class. In addition to these winners the Asbury class had two other good entries and won a total of $35.00 in prize money. Mr. T. C. Peniel is teacher of the Asbury Class and Mr. Macon Chiles is president. Two members of the class, Mr. Perry Grimes and Mr. Chiles also exhibited individual entries and won prizes. To complete a good day for the Asbury Class, Mr. Perry Grimes' name was drawn as winner of one of the registered Hampshire pigs.

The Damascus Class, with Mr. Wallace Purvis president, was runner-up in the class competition with three entries and three blue ribbon entries for a total of $18.00 prize money. They were closely followed by the Rhoades Class with two blue ribbon and one red ribbon winner out of their three entries for a total of $16.00.

The activities of the day with only members of the veterans classes competing were won as follows: Hog calling contest, Mr. Woodrow W. Farris of the Damascus class; The shoe race, Mr. Hughie W. Bryan of the Pine Level Class; Climbing the greasy pole, Mr. Jim Mathews of the Goodman class; Catching the greasy pig, Mr. Grady T. Barefoot of the Damascus Class. The contests were close with the exception of the hog calling contest which Mr. Farris won hands down and catching the greasy pig which was done by Mr. Barefoot who caught and smothered the pig in less than 30 seconds.

In the final events of the day in which all members of the Farm Training Program participated, Mr. Perry Grimes and Mr. Levy A. Rowell were lucky and drew the two registered purebred Hampshire pigs given away. Mr. Kermit G. Crook, Superintendent of the County schools, was Master of Ceremonies for the day. Mr. L. L. Sellers, Associate Supervisor for Vocational Agriculture, addressed the group and complimented the farm trainees and their teachers on the fine hog show and program.

Another feature of the day, one of the most outstanding, was the awarding of 102 Ownership Certificates by Mr. C. W. Goolsby, Assistant Vocational Agriculture Supervisor, to trainees who have bought farms since entering the Veterans Vocational Agriculture Training Program. "Farm ownership is fundamental to good farming," said Mr. Goolsby, "and those who have bought farms are to be congratulated."

Activities for the day were under the direction of Mr. James P. Martin and Mr. Fred D. Clark, County Teachers of Veterans Vocational Agriculture.

Is Better Blind

The hedge formerly growing in front of the Elba High School building has been taken up and transplanted around the school athletic field. It is expected to grow high enough to shut off the view from outside the fence so that the unsightly burial used last season will no longer be necessary. The hedge should add much to the appearance of the field.

Circle Arrow Cage Team To Open Home Schedule December 5

Defeated 57 to 51 By State Teachers In Troy Mon. Night

The Western Auto Circle Arrows, independent team which made an outstanding record last season, are practicing again today and hope to carry on even more successfully this season. Under the management of Foy English, the Arrows are sponsored by the Elba Western Auto Associate Store.

Most of the star basketballers of last season will play again this year, with several promising new players, making it an all-star aggregation. Manager English says they will not play a formal schedule, but will plan games for a few weeks ahead and expect to have plenty of games that will afford local basketball fans plenty of high class exhibition in this sport.

Included in the lineup are Mutt Ward, Texel Young, Buddy Farris, Jack Cowen, Harold Hudson, Jarvis Elwood, Ralph Johnson, Buddy Perry, Davis Lewis, and Hoover Harrington.

The team played a practice game with Troy State Teachers College in Troy Monday night and dropped a 57 to 51 decision. Another game with the collegian team has been scheduled to be played at the Elba High School gym Monday night, December 4.

Opp Hospital Is Scheduled For Dedication December 8

Opp, Ala.—The Missel Memorial Hospital, located one mile north of the center of Opp on Highway 98, and one of the most modern and best equipped hospitals in this section of the state will be dedicated December 8th.

Built at a cost of approximately $500,000, this building was more than a year under construction. It was built by A. Berney Jones, Montgomery, and is one of the most substantially constructed hospitals in the South.

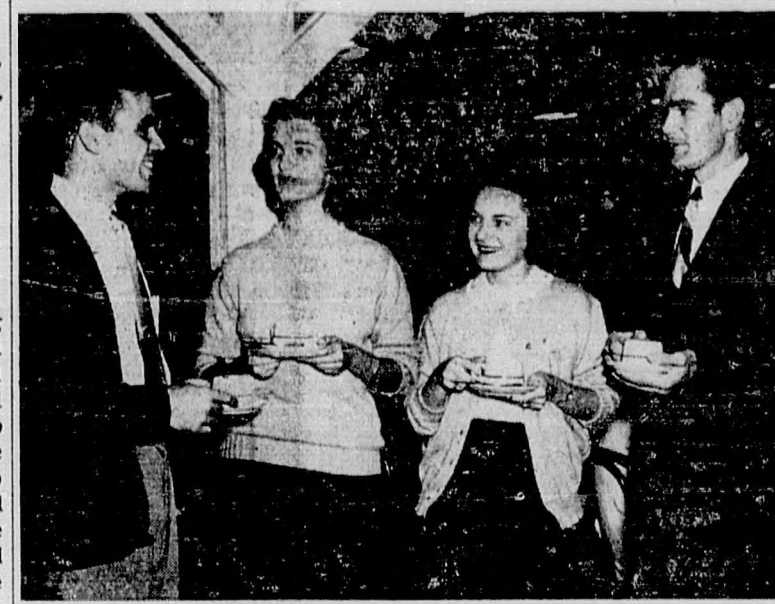

Situated atop a gently sloping hill, the building itself is of modern architecture with a pitched front roof. The roof in the rear of the building is flat. A double thickness of red brick covers the steel frame of the hospital. The inside walls are of hollow tile with cement plaster. It is completely fireproof.

The main entrance is approached by a horseshoe drive with ample parking space. The front entrance is beautified by four limestone columns with the name Missel Memorial Hospital engraved in gold letters above them. The front of the building is further enhanced by iron grilling.

The ambulance entrance is at the rear of the building. Facilities there include space for personnel parking as well as loading area for supplies. An aerial view of the structure would show it to be an almost good farming," said Mr. Goolsby, "and those who have bought farms are to be congratulated."

The color scheme is the traditional hospital white. The corridors are mostly gray, the opposite wall being pale yellow. Hall endings are lively colors, such as salmon pink and Copenhagen blue. This shortens the corridors by an optical illusion. The patients rooms are a restful green.

Floors throughout the building are of assorted colored tile, designed to blend with the walls. The corridor ceilings are of acoustical tile.

New officers of the Education Club at the Alabama Polytechnic Institute which each week sponsors a coffee hour for all education students pause as they discuss plans for the club work this year. Left to right they are: Jim Smith, Birmingham, president; Beryl McEann, Daphne, secretary; Maragom Whitman, Elba, treasurer; and John Odum, Wilmer, Vice-president.

Bring Your Poll Tax Receipt And Vote On Amendments Dec. 13

All persons being qualified electors of Coffee County Alabama who failed to pay their 1949 poll tax or any back poll tax due between the first day of October, 1948 and the first day of February, 1949 but who have paid this 1949 poll tax or any back poll tax due between the first day of October, 1948 and the present time may vote at an amendment election to be held December 13, 1949 by presenting their poll tax receipts at their respective polling place showing that such tax has been paid.

The above stated situation has arisen due to the fact that all persons have until the last day of January, 1949 to pay any poll taxes due and it is impossible for the tax collector to turn in the poll tax credit books for credits due until after the first day of February of each year.

J. O. English, Probate Judge

SCHOOL BOARD MEETING
The Coffee County Board of Education will meet the 23rd of December instead of the 30th. The Christmas holidays will begin at noon December 22 and classes will resume January 2. The office of the County Board of Education will be closed December 24 to January 2nd.

Opp Hospital Is Scheduled For Dedication December 8

exact T in formation. Originally designed to accommodate 100 beds, one complete wing was omitted and its addition is planned for the near future. Its present capacity is 29 beds and 10 bassinets.

There are nine private rooms and 10 semi-private rooms. They are conveniently located in three sections, maternity, medical and surgical, and colored.

The central square of the building is comprised of an operating room suite, which embraces two operating rooms, central sterilization room, two clean-up rooms, two sub-sterilizing rooms, the nurses' locker and the doctors' locker and various storage places.

There are additional facilities such as an isolation nursery, laboratory and pharmacy, X-ray room, emergency operating room, doctors lounge, nurses lounge, and resident nurses quarters.

The basement provides adequate space for a large boiler room, the air conditioning plant, an emergency power unit, a laundry room, several shower rooms and storage room.

The color scheme is not the traditional hospital white. The corridors are mostly gray, the opposite wall being pale yellow. Hall endings are lively colors, such as salmon pink and Copenhagen blue. This shortens the corridors by an optical illusion.

The patients rooms are a restful green.

Mrs. Jennie Fuller Buried In Kinston

Beloved Woman Dies In Pensacola On November 24th

(By Mrs. Rayford Stephens)
Mrs. Jennie Fuller, 73, wife of the late Mr. Pete Fuller, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Noel Smith in Pensacola, Fla., on Thursday, November 24th. Mrs. Fuller was born in Elba County, Alabama, June 5, 1871, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David W. Jernigan. She and Mr. Fuller moved to Kinston in 1916. A few years later Mr. Fuller died and "Aunt Jennie" made her home here until ill health forced her to live with her children a few years ago.

The body was brought to the home of her son, Foy D., Thursday night and funeral services were conducted Friday afternoon from the Kinston Baptist church of which she was a member. Rev. Bob Barker, pastor of the Oklahoma Baptist Church, officiated. Active pallbearers were all grandsons of the deceased: Roy, Clayton and Oris Hopkins, Peter, Harold and Eliah Fuller. Interment was in the local cemetery with Rainer in charge.

Mrs. Fuller is survived by one brother, Mr. Joe Jernigan, Elba; two sisters, Mrs. Mattie Goodman of New Brockton, and Mrs. Dora Head of Baker, Fla.; three sons, Lodian, Almore, Foster, Chickasaw and Foy D. Kinston; two daughters, Mrs. Ed Hopkins, Montgomery, and Mrs. Noel Smith, Pensacola, Fla.; also 10 grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

Attending the funeral from out-of-town were Mrs. E. Hopkins, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hopkins, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Hopkins, and Oris Hopkins, Montgomery; Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Fuller and sons, Harold and Pete, Almore; Miss Joyce Fuller, Mr. and Mrs. Noel Smith, Mrs. Una Young, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hopkins, Mr. L. D. Voy and Mr. and Mrs. P. O. Davis, Pensacola, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Fuller and son, Eliah, Mr. E. R. Vernon, Mr. T. W. Barker, Chickasaw; Mrs. Dora Head, Mrs. Myrl Tanner and daughters, Joyce and Betty, Mr. and Mrs. Ulysses Head, Baker, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Jernigan, Mobile; Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Fuller, Mr. A. D. Fuller, Mr. Joe Jernigan, Miss Alpha Jernigan and Judge and Mrs. J. C. Canley, Elba; Mrs. Mattie Goodman, Mr. and Mrs. Bertie Goodman, Miss Willow Bell Goodman and Miss Jean Goodman, New Brockton; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Allgood, Mr. Will Hopkins, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Finney, Miss Peggy Finney, Samson; Mrs. E. C. Williams, Mrs. N. O. Dorsey, Miss Grace Stanley and Mrs. Will Stanley, Opp.

Elba Tigers Will Open Cage Season Here Dec. 13

New Playground Now Under Construction Near Elba High School

PTA Sponsors Drive For All-Year Place Of Recreation Here

The large area north and east of the new Elba grammar school building is rapidly taking shape under the playground under the sponsorship of the Parent Teachers Association. The ground used to be used for the school football and baseball field and in times of wet weather it was a miniature lake or resembled a hog wallow more than an athletic field.

A portion of the ground was covered with stately pine trees—veritable monarchs. They were cut down and the lumber therefrom was used in constructing the new school plant. The nine stumps from these trees presented a problem until a Dursley Tractor puller and skidder made short work of them. Some were hauled away and others, too big to be moved, are being burned.

A county road crew with heavy equipment is grading the site so it will drain properly. Mrs. Kline Bentley, PTA president, states that when it is completed it will be a playground where the children of Elba can indulge in all kinds of wholesome recreation. It is hoped that full-time supervision can be maintained.

Methodist Services

The following services will be observed at the Elba Methodist Church Sunday, December 4th. 9:45 — Sunday School with classes for all ages. Luther Vaughan, general superintendent. 11:00 — Observance of the Lord's Supper with meditation by the pastor. 6:00 P. M. — Meetings of the Youth Fellowship and Junior Fellowship groups. 7:00 P. M. — Evening worship service. At this time the pastor will preach on the subject, "The Value of Man's Soul." We invite visitors and new comers in town to attend all the services of our church. You will receive a cordial welcome.

Aged Fire Setter

Jack Conway, Coffee County fire warden, reports that a 92-year-old resident of Geneva County was apprehended Monday setting a woods fire near Samson. A spotter plane was used to catch the old man. When taken to Geneva he confessed before Judge Ward to setting at least a dozen fires. When asked why he set the fires, he stated that he liked to see them burn. The judge told him that he was sentencing him to two months in jail to see how he would like that.

Funeral Services For W. H. Garress Nov. 18

William Henry (Dock) Garress died at his home November 17 at 6 o'clock. Heart trouble was given as the cause of his death. Mr. Garress had been ill for six months.

Mr. Garress was born in Philadelphia, Penn., but came here to make his home 45 years ago. He was 75 years of age and had many friends here.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Polle Morris Garress. Funeral services were held at White Water Church November 18 conducted by Rev. O. M. Fox. Burial was in White Water Cemetery. Pallbearers were Murphy Cox, Charles Kelley, Raymon Smith, Alton Berry, Louie Berry and Mr. Whitaker.

20 Players Attend Practice; To Play 16 Game Schedule

Basketball practice has started in earnest at Elba High School with the first game of the season to be played here December 13th against the Coffee Springs quintet.

Approximately 20 men have reported for practice, and prospects for a winning team are fair even though practically all of last years team graduated. Harold Farris and Sam Dye are the most experienced men on the team. Farris having been a regular last year and Dye having played frequently with the "A" team. Talmadge Bruns on Ray team. Ray Knight, Talmadge Brunson, Sonny Bell, Tommy Wise and John Enzor are all veterans of last years squad, but their experience was largely limited to the "B" team.

Several new men, transferred from Junior High Schools have been impressive in practice. Acie James Lowery of Zion Chapel, Doug Marler of Bash, Maynard Brunson, Jack Foley and Crocker all of Curtis, and Jimmy Scott of Florida have all shown up well.

Local boys coming out for the first time include Bill Smart, Charles Carney, Mack and Glen Moore, Cecil Cody, Sonny Grimes and Sam King, with Smart and Carney the two most likely to see action this year.

Coach Jim Reynolds has announced the following schedule for the 49-50 season:

Prospects Brighten For Construction Of New Elba Postoffice

Hopes for a new postoffice building in Elba is being revived. A news dispatch from Washington states that six Alabama cities, Elba, Birmingham, Livingston, Tallahassee, Alabama City and Camden are in line for new post offices.

Plans Include Elba In Six Alabama City Project

Senators Hill and Sparkman were informed by the General Services Administrator that the aforesaid Alabama cities are in critical need of new postoffice buildings. Birmingham is allowed $6,000,000 for its postoffice site and planning while the others are limited to $200,000 each.

Officers of the two Senators said postoffice sites, which would be allotted one to a congressional district, would be announced later for three Alabama districts, the second, seventh and eighth.

Accused In Death Of White Man

Greenville, Ala. The Chicago Defender—A white jury here last Sunday acquitted James Anderson of the murder of a white planter and cattle raiser.

The "Not Guilty" verdict was rendered in the five-day trial of the 24-year old Anderson of Conecuh County, who was accused of killing Sam Stacy, the white man, in a fight at a Butler County jail.

The youth's father, Donnie Anderson, 46, was also under indictment for murder in Stacy's death and will be tried later.

The jury accepted a physician's testimony that Stacy died of a heart attack and not of injuries allegedly suffered in the fight.

Sam Stacy and his brother, Herman, both of Monroe County, were said to have engaged the Andersons in a fight at the jail. Testimony at the trial pointed to an argument between the white brothers and the Negro father and son at the jail after the colored men's truck passed the Stacy's car and was ordered to stop.

Stacy's car was then unloaded first.

Dorothy B. Ferebee Is President National Coun. Negro Women

A "dark horse", Dr. Dorothy B. Ferebee, a Washington physician and former county officer, is to succeed Mrs. McLeod Bethune as president of the National Council of Negro Women, after a surprise poll of 97 votes in her favor.

Mrs. Edith Samson, favorite trailed third in the race. Her predecessor, Mrs. Bethune, was the founder and first president of the powerful organization. At her retirement she was honored with an elaborate banquet given in her honor with several notable people present, including the President. The Council has a membership of 850,000 women.

HOUSE COMPANY

Imagine!

"What an evening! What an evening!" sighed the host after the last guest had left. "We had a wonderful time, though, didn't we?" His wife agreed.

And old Senator Pomposus, the host continued, laughing. "Boy! He was tighter than a drum."

"How can you say such a thing?" his wife demanded indignantly. "The Senator definitely was not intoxicated. Any man who can slide down the banisters without losing his balance certainly can't be drunk!"

Ouch!

Tom was astounded that the judge had permitted the apparently guilty man to go free.

"How did it ever happen?" he asked a court attendant.

"Because he was deaf," explained the other.

"What has that got to do with it?" demanded Tom.

"Didn't you know," asked the attendant, "that you can't convict a man without a hearing?"

GAGGED

Stranger at crossroads store

"Who's the close-mouthed fellow over there in the corner? He hasn't spoken a word for the last fifteen minutes."

Another Village Loner: "Him? That's Jim Towsey. He ain't close-mouthed—he's 'jess watin' for the storekeeper to bring back the spittoon."

ONE WAY TO DO IT

"How'd you come out in that fight with your wife the other night?"

"Aw, she came crawling to me on her hands and knees."

"What did she say?"

"Come out from under that bed, you coward!"

Butt-tasty

A fellow took his wife to the movies but couldn't hear because of the conversation going on in the row in back of him. When he could stand it no longer, he turned around to the fellow behind him.

"Oh, you can't hear a word, huh? Well, listen, mugg, whose business is it what I'm telling my girl?"

IMAGINE!

Officer: "Hey! Pull over to the curb, lady. Do you know you were doing seventy-five?"

Cute She: "Isn't it marvelous!—And I just learned to drive yesterday."

Technique

If Mrs. Case had stopped to think she probably wouldn't have asked the window cleaner if he preferred a cup of tea or a glass of beer. One look at his face should have been enough to give her the answer.

However, he had a very good reason for choosing beer.

"You see, 'mam," he explained, "if that beer always gives a better polish when I breathe on the glass."

Accused In Death Of White Man

Greenville, Ala. The Chicago Defender—An all white jury here last Sunday acquitted James Anderson of the murder of a white planter and cattle raiser.

The "Not Guilty" verdict was rendered in the five-day trial of the 24-year old Anderson of Conecuh County, who was accused of killing Sam Stacy, the white man, in a fight at a Butler County gin.

The youths father, Donnie Anderson, 46, was also under indictment for murder in Stacy's death and will be tried later.

The jury accepted a physician's testimony that Stacy died of a heart attack and not of injuries allegedly suffered in the fight.

Sam Stacy and his brother, Herman, both of Monroe County, were said to have engaged the Andersons in a fight at the gin. Testimony at the trial pointed to an argument between the white brothers and the Negro father and son at the gin where the colored men's truck passed the Stacy's enroute and won the right to have their cotton unloaded first.

Dorothy B. Ferebee Is President National Coun. Negro Women

A "dark horse," Dr. Dorothy B. Ferebee, a Washington physician and former council officer, is to succeed Mrs. McLeod Bellune as president of the National Council of Negro women, after a surprise poll of 77 votes in her favor. Mrs. Bellune, a favorite, trailed third in the race. Her predecessor, Mrs. Bellune, was the founder and first president of the powerful organization. At her retirement she was honored with an elaborate banquet given in her honor with several notable people present, including the President. The Council has a membership of 850,000 women.

SOCIALS

Imagine! What an evening! What an evening! The host after the last guest had left. "We had a wonderful time, though, didn't we?" His wife agreed. "And old Senator Pompey," the host continued, laughing, "Boy! He was higher than a drum."

"How can you say such a thing?" his wife demanded indignantly. "The Senator definitely was not intoxicated. Any man who can slide down the banisters without losing his balance certainly can't be drunk."

Oh! Tom was astounded that the apparently guilty man to go out free. "How did it ever happen?" he asked a court attendant. "Because he was deaf," explained the other.

"What has that got to do with it?" demanded Tom. "Didn't you know," asked the attendant, "that you can't convict a man without a hearing?"

GAGGED

Stranger at crossroads store: "Who's the close-mouthed fellow over there in the corner? He hasn't spoken a word for the last fifteen minutes."

Another Village Loner: "Him? That's Jim Towles. He ain't close-mouthed—he's just waitin' for the president to bring back the spittoon."

ONE WAY TO DO IT
"How'd you come out in that fight with your wife the other night?"
"Aw, she came crawling to me on her hands and knees."
"What did she say?"
"Come out from under that bed, you coward!"

Batsky
A fellow took his wife to the movies but couldn't hear because of the conversation going on in the row in back of him. When he could stand it no longer, he turned around to the fellow behind him.
"Excuse me, but I just can't hear a word," he said.
"Oh, you can't hear a word, huh? Well, listen, mugg, whose business is it what I'm telling my girl?"

IMAGINE!
Officer: "Hey! Pull over to the curb, lady. Do you know you were doing seventy-five?"
Cute She: "Isn't it marvelous!—And I just learned to drive yesterday."

Technique
If Mrs. Case had stopped to think she probably wouldn't have asked the window cleaner if he preferred a cup of tea or a glass of beer. One look at his face should have been enough to give her the answer.

However, he had a very good reason for choosing beer.
"You see, ma'am," he explained, "I find that beer always gives a better polish when I breathe on the glass."
